A SPRING SHOWER

When I awoke this morning,
I shivered as I looked
And saw the cool little streamlets,
That the rain had easily brooked.
The sky was wrapped in grayness,
Rain was falling fast;
The pattering of the rain-drops
Was like an army going past.
The rumble of the thunder,
Resembled the beating of a drum;
To me it told the rain-drops
Their quitting time had come.
A quick flash from the lightning
Cut a gap into the sky;
The clouds began to float away,
And the shower drifted by.

—THOMAS MOORE '29.

TRY WORKIN'

If you're wastin' all your time,
An' you haven't got a dime,
An' you're thinkin' of a crime,
Try workin'.

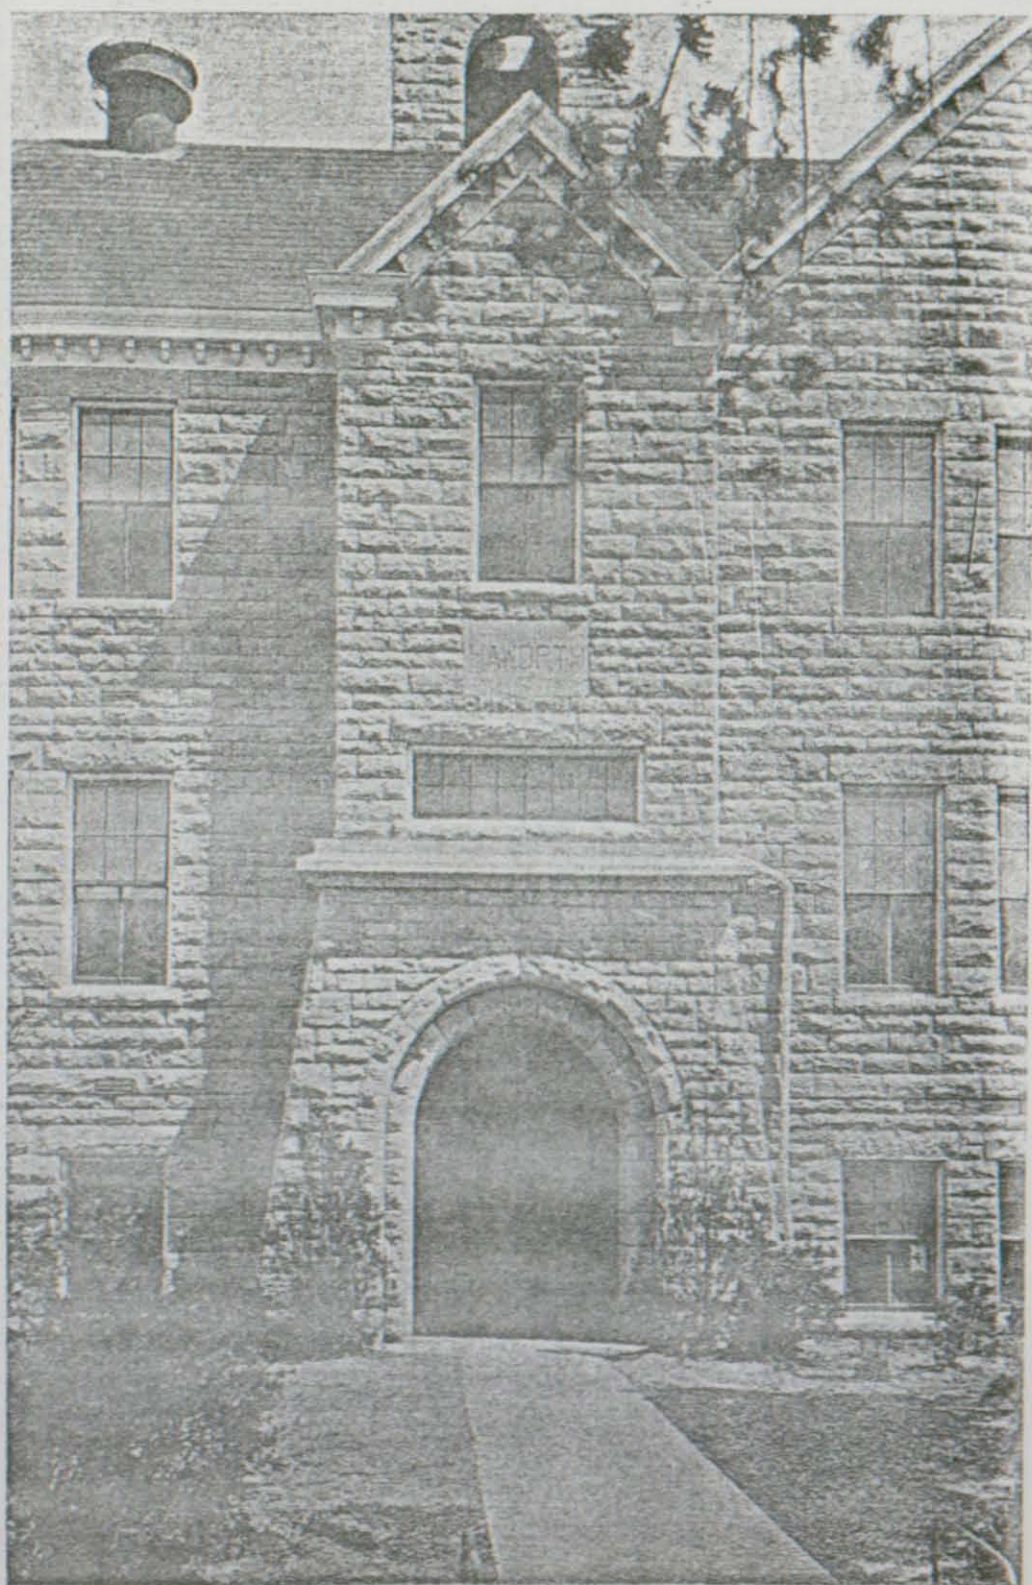

If you want to get some "mon",
To show yourself some fun,
Don't go get yourself a gun,
Try workin'.

If you have no place to stay,
An' you roam around all day,
An' you want to get some pay,
Try workin'.

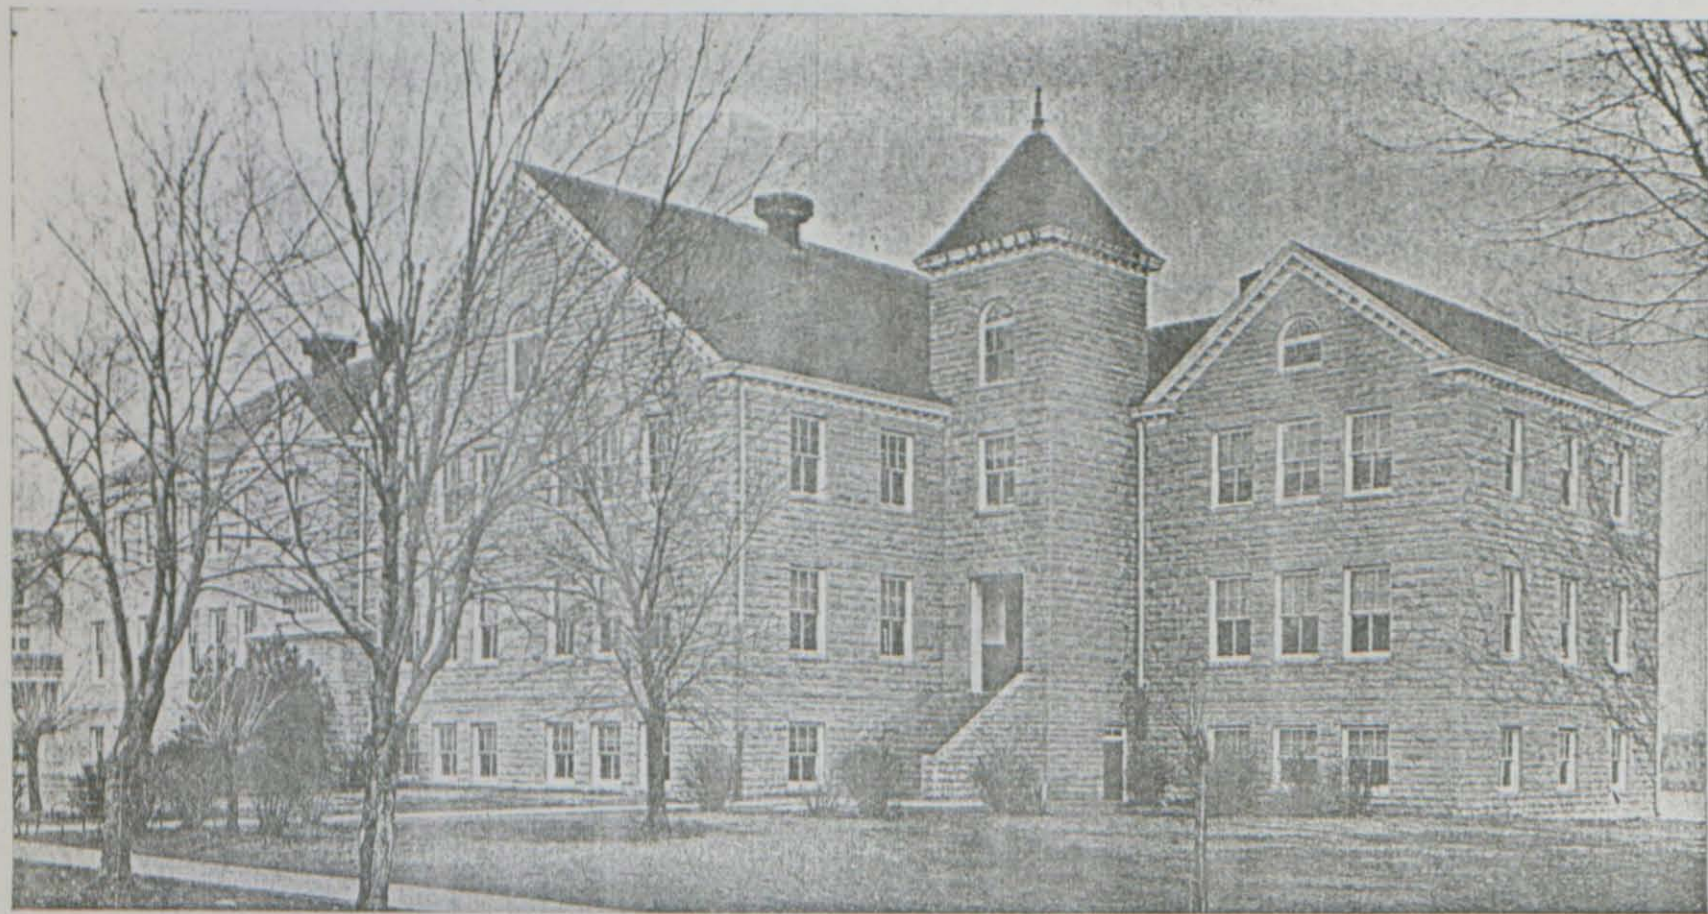

If you want to have some friends,
An' be a man who lends
With lots of dividends,
Try workin'.

If your purse is awful thin,
An' you haven't raked much in,
It's time you should begin,
Try workin'.

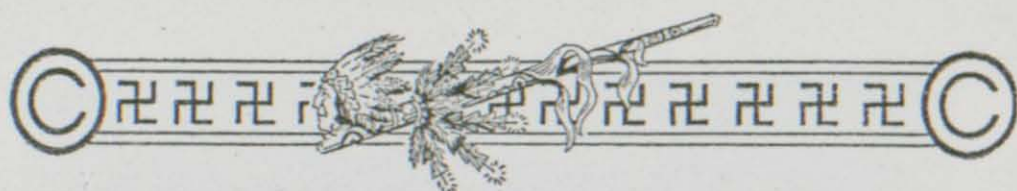

If you're livin' off your dad,
An' you've spent 'bout all he's had,
It's time you're starting for yourself, my Lad,
Try workin'.

ENTRANCE TO HAWORTH HALL.

HAWORTH HALL—THE ACADEMIC BUILDING AT CHILOCCO.

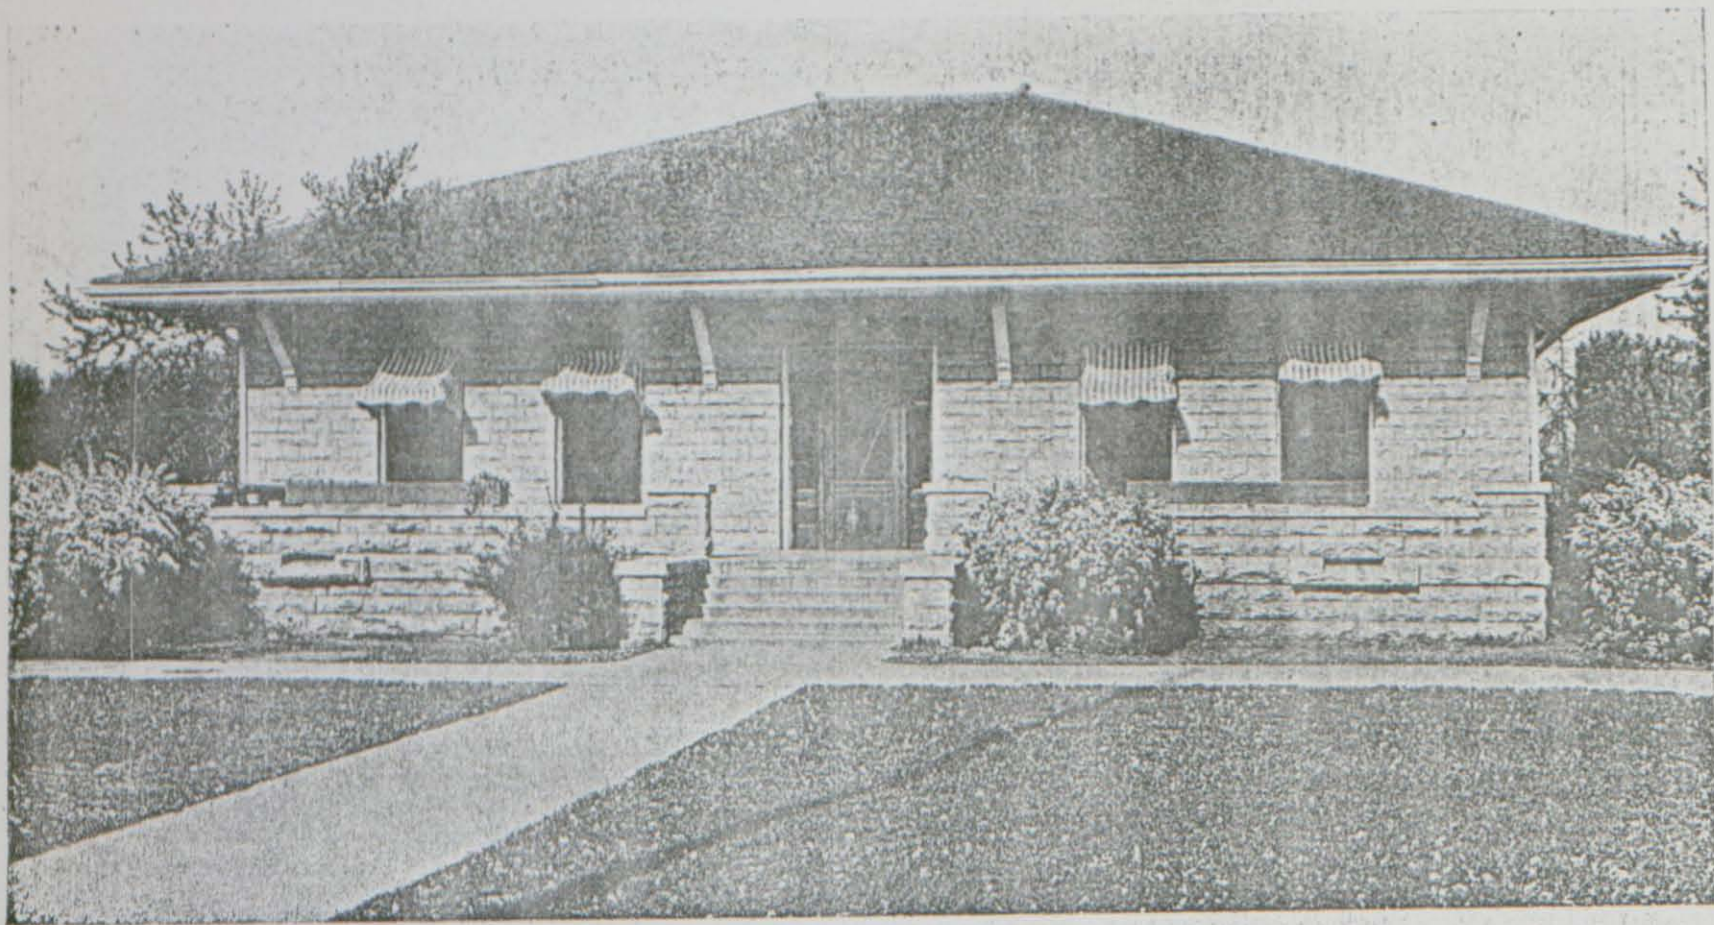

OUR SCHOOL

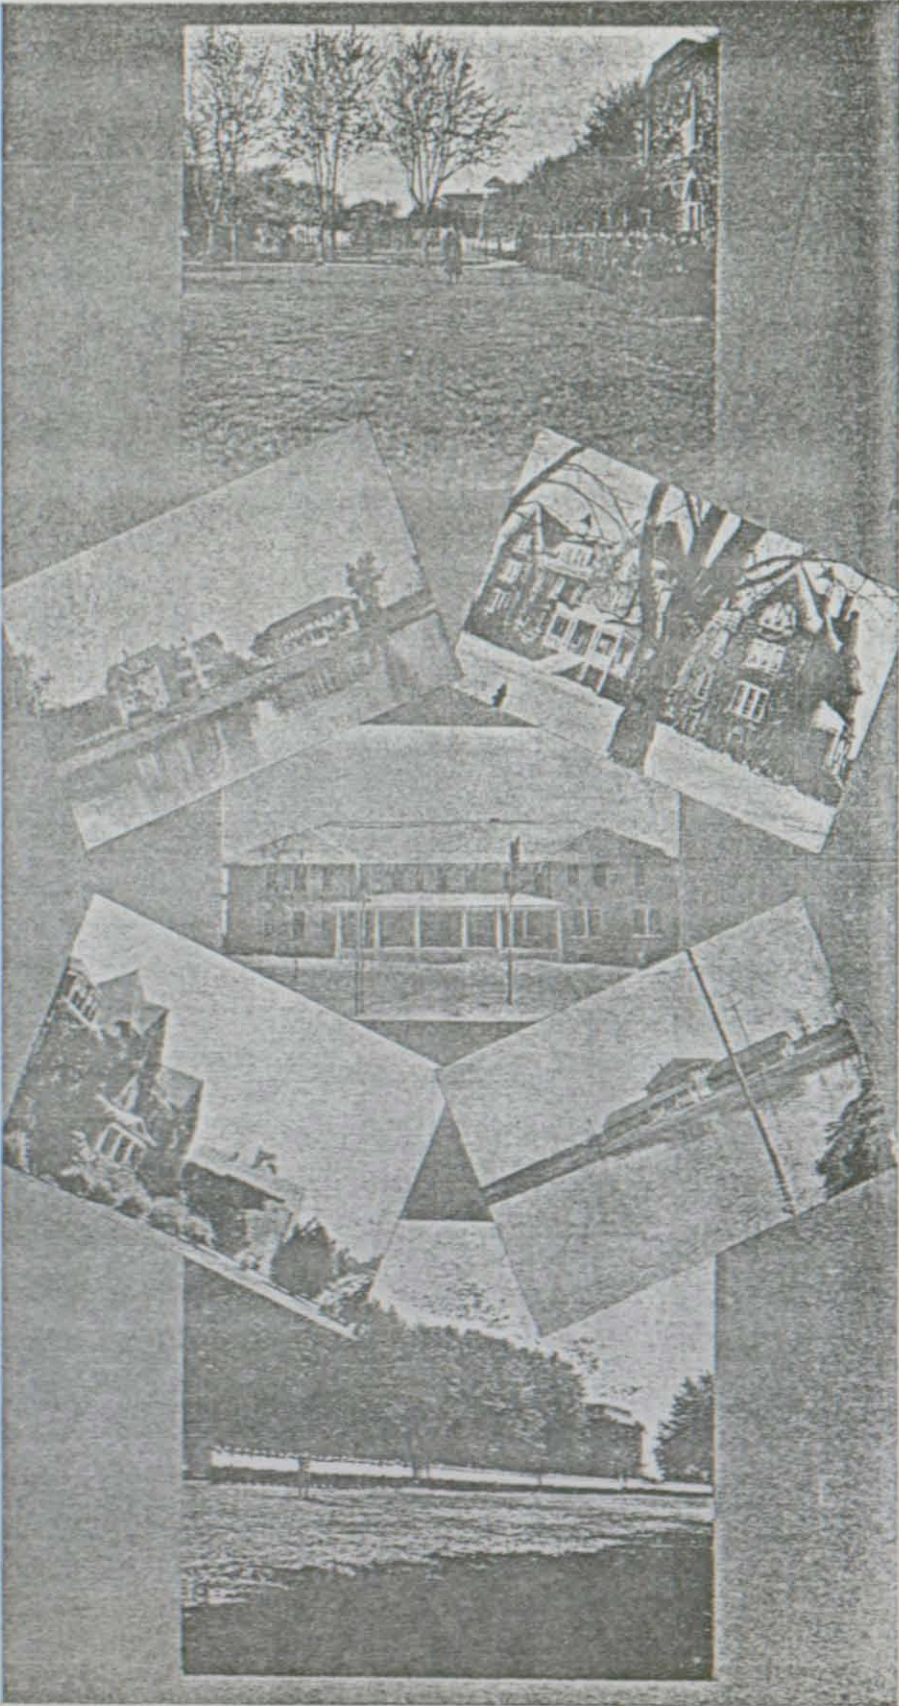

On a prairie green and fertile,
'Neath and ever cloudless sky—
Where the air is filled with fragrance,
And the wild birds cheery cry,
Where the orchards and the wheat fields
Bring us peace when evening falls—
Stands our school, our dear Chilocco,
With her ivy covered walls.

Let us wave on high our colors,
Let us give a hearty cheer;
Let our hearts be ever loyal
To the school we hold so dear.

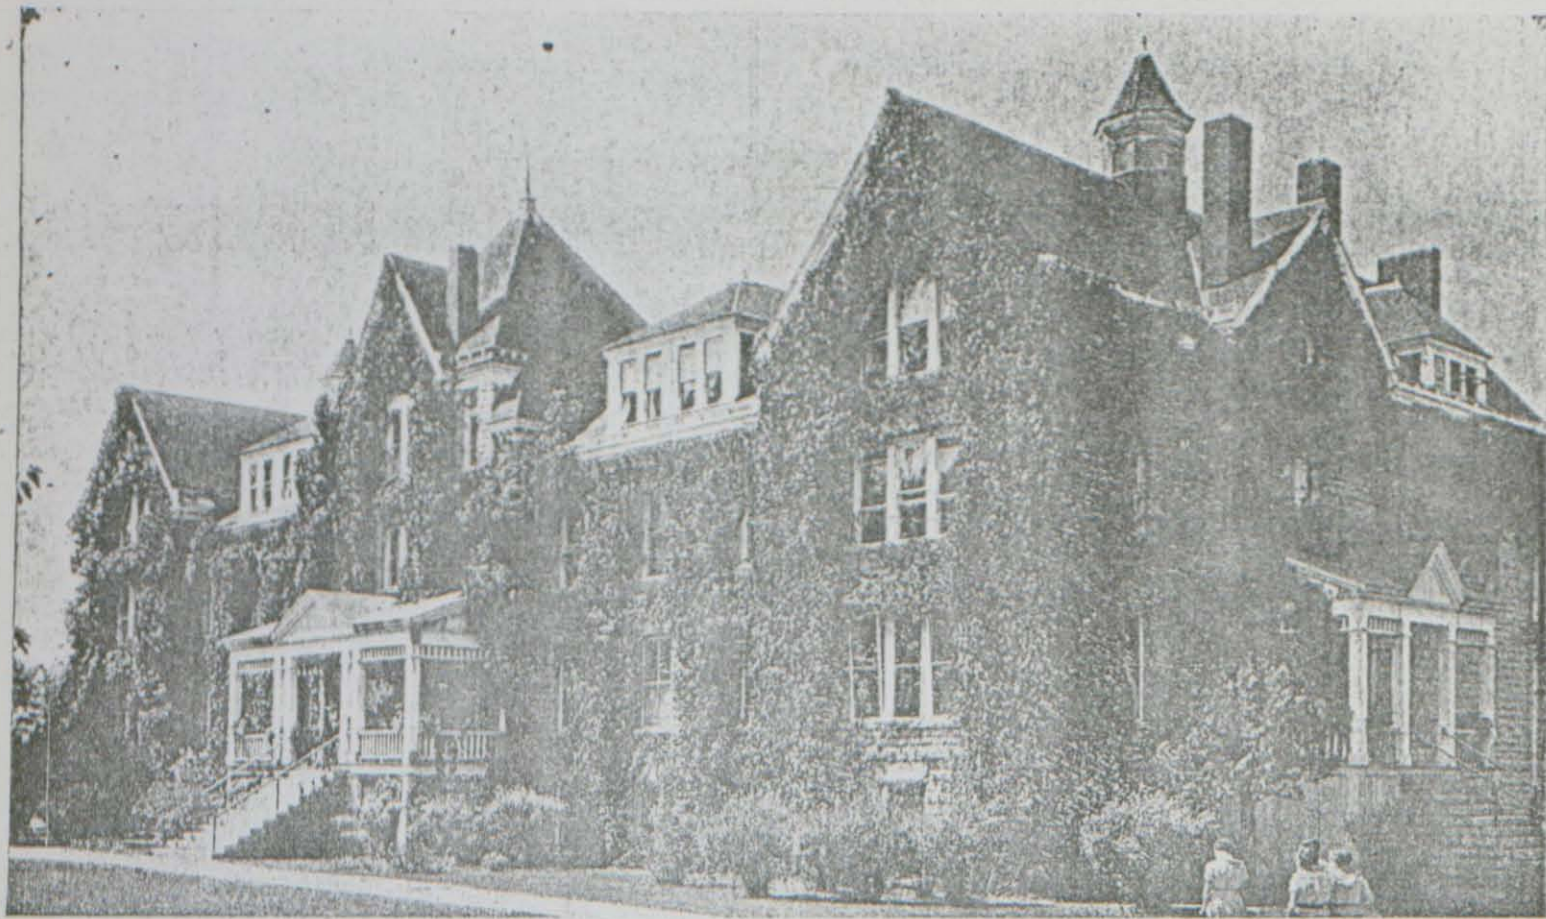

We are proud and loyal Seniors,
Come from the city, town, and farm—
And we hold aloft our banner
With a stout and steady arm.
Blue, for all that's true and loyal,
White, for all that's good and pure—
And we raise them high in homage
And salute the flag we love.

SENIOR CLASS SONG

THE BLUE AND THE WHITE

When the people all are cheering,
And you hear the music play—
You will see the jolly Seniors,
For we're on parade to-day.
There are boys who fight life's battles,
There are girls whose hearts beat true,
As we come so gaily marching,
'Neath our colors white and blue.

There's a thrill divine as we cheer the line,
While we raise our colors true;
Our banner bright, the blue and the white
Oh, we pledge our love to you!
As we swing along, all steady and strong,
Every head is lifted high,
And our true hearts beat, with our tramping feet,
While our colors proudly fly.

Oh, it's fine to be a Senior,
In the school we love so well,
Oh, it's fine to sing of victory,
And of our trials tell;
So we'll march on 'neath our colors
And we'll cheer them as they fly,
For we're Seniors, ever loyal,
Onward! Onward! is our cry.

A SENIOR'S PRAYER

Our knowledge thou art in English,
Grammar be thy name,
Thy sentence come,
Thy will be done,
In analyzing as in diagramming.
Give us this day our daily test,
And forgive us our grades
As we forgive our grader.
Lead us not into infinitives,
But deliver us from gerunds and participles.
For nouns are common, proper, and collective.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

N THINKING back over the years, we remember having seen a group of jolly boys and girls organizing their class for the first time in September 1923. Although we were only Junior High School students, we were as sedate as some of our upper classmen, in our opinion—although some of our teachers may have felt differently about it. We felt honored to have as our first class sponsors Misses Tollie Pfister and Jane Hendricks. We attracted the attention of the other classes while still in our Junior High days by our scholastic and athletic records. Three times we won the Peace Pipe offered by Mr. B. V. Edworthy for the highest class average. Our class was well represented on the Junior High debate and athletic teams, as well as in the school band, orchestra, and other organizations.

Although in our Freshman and Sophomore years we were not particularly outstanding, we tried to keep our class up to the high standard set by our class motto, BE TRUE, under the tireless supervision of our sponsors and class officers.

As we pass on through our Junior year we pause long enough to recall the honors gained by some of our group in various activities. Eight of our boys were on the Varsity football squad, five were on the baseball team, and five were on the track team. Nor was athletics the only activity in which we engaged. The debate teams, musical organizations and clubs had numerous representatives from the Junior class.

Our Senior year has been a happy, as well as a lively one with Miss Sims as our sponsor and Wiley Green as our president. We have kept up our record, both in school and outside activities. That we have proved ourselves trustworthy is evidenced by the fact that a large percentage of the student officers has been chosen from our class. And now as we come to close of our Senior year, may these few verses ever hold a place in our memories dear:

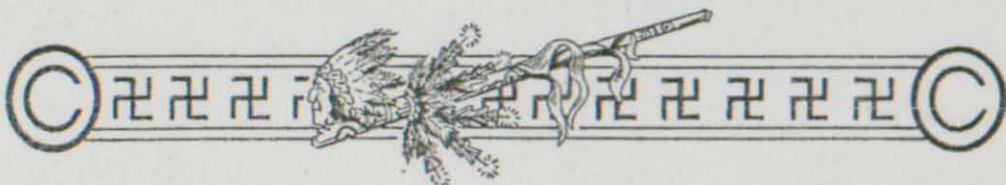

It is a beautiful place
The one I have in mind,
The old gray walls with vines
Are lovingly entwined.

When the campus is green with beauties unseen—
Where we gather for frolic and fun,
Those days, those golden school days
It seems they're just begun.

But each day swiftly flies
As sweet memories do,
Until we regretfully realize—

That 'tis a morning in June,
School days are ended
And we shall all part soon.

But whatever may be the path we tread,
Our lives will be more noble and true,
Because of the love of our teachers
And Chilocco class-mates too.

SENIOR CLASS WILL

WE THE CLASS OF '29 being of sound and sane mind, do hereby solemnly will and bequeath to our successors, the future graduating classes of Chilocco, the following valuables:

I, BETTYE PEARL ALLEN, will to Winona Sunrise, the only thing in the world that I can call my own—my broad Felix grin—and broad may it be.

I, GLENN ALFORD, hereby will my ability as a trombonist to Edwin Jennings.

I, MILDRED BYINGTON, will to Ethelyn Shunatona, my Domestic Science note-book with the request that she make a collection of recipes for Ethel Bohannon.

I, AMOS BLACK, solemnly bequeath my dignity to Mattie Anatubby.

I, HARVEY BEDOKA, do hereby will to Floyd Johnson my ability to fall off of a ladder.

I, NEUSHIN BEE, wish it fully understood that my position in the Bakery is to be filled by Andrew Hill.

I, THEODORE BIRDSHEAD, bestow my Farm Plot upon the broad shoulders of Cecil Chisholm, who has never been known to tell an untruth.

I, SPADE BUCKHORN, bestow upon Charles Wolfe my chair in the tenor section of the choir.

I, CHARLES CANOE, want it clearly understood that T. L. Stribling is to have all of my musical talent.

I, EMILY CORNELL, will to Berdie Blythe my broom and floor mop.

I, JOHN DEE CHILDERS, do hereby bestow upon the broad and capable shoulders of Oscar McCurtain, my ability to pick the largest dinner from the menu for the least amount of money.

I, EDWARD ELLISON, will to Wayne Tahquette, my Physics book, which I guarantee to be as good as new.

I, JESSIE MAE FORAKER, bequeath to Serena Ned, my place of honor in the hall of Home Four.

I, ETHEL FRAZIER, bequeath my task of keeping the girls in Home Four quiet, to Leta Clay.

I, HERBERT FRANKLIN, will to Dave Quinton, my collection of Red Cards.

I, MADELINE GOATE, bestow upon the best cook in the Junior Class, Minnie Shell, my ability to make biscuits.

I, WILEY GREEN, gladly release all claim to my Farm Plot in favor of Charley Sam.

I, EDNA HANNON, do hereby give to Edward Sunday, my violin and my musical talent.

I, ANNA HITCHCOCK, will to Cornelia George my permanent wave and long may it wave.

I, MYRTLE HARRIS, will my fairy-like figure to Mildred George.

I, BILL HERROD, give to Edmond Mahseet, my claim to "Crip," the foreman's horse.

I, ALGERNON JUENNESSE, hereby bestow upon Glade Wakalee, my glossy hair and stay-comb helmet.

I, ESTHER LOCUST, bequeath to "Karo" Jefferson, my place as a star pupil in the Senior Class.

I, CYNTHIA MITHLOE, do hereby make it unnecessary for Bill Hitchcock to borrow my Nursing Note-book—by giving it to her.

I, REX MCGILBERRY, pass on to Dora Armstrong, my sunny smile and "Mary Pickford" dimples.

I, THOMAS MOORE, give unreservedly to Edmond Mahseet, my left handed, rubberless pencil and sport writing pad.

I, BENNETT MONROE, bequeath to Adam West my valued carpentry tools.

I, RUSSELL PATTERSON, bestow upon Augustus Roubedeaux my three gray blankets.

I, LOUISE PARRIS, gladly give to Mary Ellison, all of my surplus avoirdupois.

I, ROSE PUMPKIN, give to Mildred George, the guardianship of my little Hospital cat.

I, EDGAR PEPPER, want it to be known by all men here present that Philip Caley is to fill my place on the Poultry Judging team.

I, FELIX PIPESTEM, do bequeath to Sam Whitehorn, both my place in the School Quartette and my paint brush.

I, WALTER RATTLER, give my seat in the choir to Sequoyah Mouse.

I, LIDA RIDING IN, pass on to Leta Clay, my high bed in Room 42.

I, FLORENCE ROSS, bequeath to Winona Sunrise, my ability as a teacher.

I, "SPEC" RHODD, give to Isreal Wilson, my much beloved corn-parcher.

I, FRANCIS RECTOR, will all my empty stay-comb jars to Mack "Pretty-Boy" Johnson.

I, ELLEN SULPHUR, bestow my ability to slide on the Home Four floors to Irene McCellan.

I, MARTIN SANDERS, do freely give to Ethel Bohannon my black curly hair.

I, JACK SCOTT, will to James William Tyner my gift of gab. Use it freely, Jim, it will get you out of many difficulties.

I, ARCHIE TAGG, give my favorite frying pan to my beloved friend, Ezekiel Starr.

I, JAMES THOMAS, remembering his fondness for skating on the lake, do hereby give to Hubert Pernell my ice-skates.

I, ANDERSON TIGER, bequeath to the future Major of the Second Battalion, my hard-boiled looks.

I, ELIZABETH TECUMSEH, bestow my title of "Gramma" upon the shoulders of Cecelia Jennings.

I, EDITH THOMPSON, do this day give to Evangeline Jones one-fourth of my height.

I, EMMA THOMAS, will to Pawnee Dandridge, all my mirrors of life.

I, JAMES USSREY, will to Jack Berry, my stock in the air-mail route, and "Miss Chilocco, Number 6."

I, LILLIAN WHITEBIRD, do bestow upon Virginia Sands my dignified walk.

I, DORA WHITE DEER, will to Bill Falls, my Physics note-book, over which I've puzzled long and strenuously.

I, ENOCH WALKINGSTICK, do bestow upon Hubert Pernell, my favorite "hang out"—the Projection Booth.

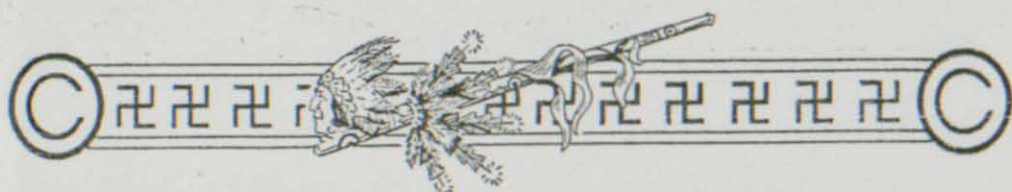

I, ETTA MAE WOLFE, will to Maggie Harjo, my "Farina" curls.

I, ROSE WYMAN, will my shaggy hair cut to Katie Sam.

In testimony whereof, we do hereby set our hand and seal, this the twentieth day of May, in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred twenty-nine.

EXTRA CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

CHILOCCO BELIEVES that Academic and Vocational courses do much toward developing young men and women into useful citizens, but that they do not furnish sufficient training for participation in community life. In order to meet this need and to give students added interests in school life various organizations have been developed on the campus. These are sponsored by faculty members who act as supervisors. Among these organizations are the following:

ACTIVITIES	MEMBERSHIP	SENIORS
Basketball	18	12
Baseball	24	7
Football	33	8
Wrestling	17	5
Track	50	5
Choir	48	17
Band	27	8

HONOR SOCIETY

TO BE ELIGIBLE for membership in the Honor Society of Chilocco one must have been a student here for at least four years. He must not only be outstanding in his school work, but must have taken an active interest in extra-curricular activities. It is believed that students who stand highest in their class room work also contribute something worthwhile to the school life on the campus.

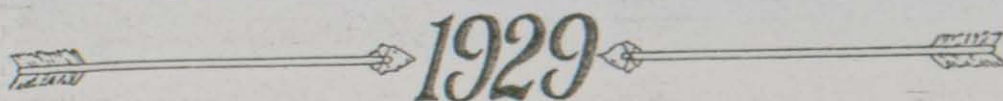

From the graduating class of 1929 the following students have been elected to membership in the Honor Society.

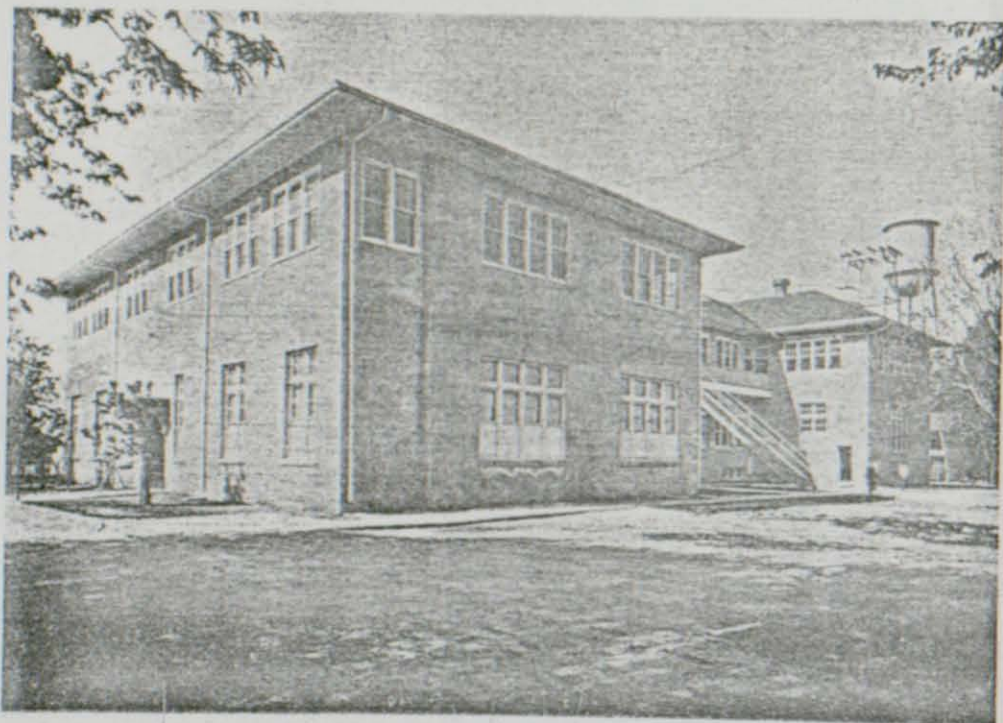

JACK SCOTT, Valedictorian
FLORENCE ROSS
MARTIN SANDERS
EDITH THOMPSON

WINNERS OF THE "C"

CHILOCCO approves of and appreciates her various athletic teams. As a token of this appreciation the school presents to the outstanding athletes every year the emblematic "C". Winners of the coveted "C" during the school year 1928-29 were:

Conclusion

Now the year is over. Commencement is drawing near.
As we bid our friends adieu, we the Senior Class of '29 give to you this little book in memory of our last year at Chilocco, and trust that you will derive as much pleasure from the perusal of its pages as we have had during our Senior year.
